

ALS SOLUTIONS

Legislation

Sitting within the knowledge base module of ALS Solutions, Legislation provides users with access to a wide range of legislative documentation, all stored and downloadable from a single location.

A synopsis is available for each document. It is possible to search and find specific regulations, codes of practice, and directives from a variety of sources. Or search using the ALS document tags for key words which can show relevant documentation in relation to the topic.

Documents are grouped together into categories: Food, Feed, Non-Food, Sensory, Pharmaceutical and Agriculture.

Advanced searches can also be performed to drill down to specific subjects, such as food labelling or preservatives.

The ALS Technical Services team continually monitor regulatory changes to work to ensure this library is kept up to date - showing when documents were published, when they come into force and expiry dates.

Users can see if the documentation is current, superseded, or withdrawn. There is also a history held as to any amendments made to the legislation alongside any other documents which may be related.

Notifications can be set up to notify users of any status changes or arrival of new documents. The user can select the areas of interest they have to receive notifications relevant to their interests.
