Consultancy Solutions
For Your Business

Expertise for your business needs, expertise that works for you

Eclipse Scientific Group has over 30 years experience of offering a wide range of high quality analytical testing services across the UK and Ireland. We are fully dedicated to our customers and determined to create a dynamic culture recognised within the Food Industry.

Our Consultancy Team is part of our Quality Department which is widely recognised as being among the best in the Food Testing Industry. We are now able to share this expertise with you as part of our new consultancy service.

Our service is targeted at those working as part of Quality / Technical departments within a food manufacturing environment and for those working within an accredited or non-accredited laboratory environment.

We will work closely with you to understand your needs in Food Safety, Good Manufacturing Practice, Laboratory Accreditation, Management and Interpretation of Testing Results and Quality Management Systems.

We offer competitive prices which can be tailored to meet both your operational and commercial requirements.
